- 5. Summary of the event (Max. 1000 Words):

We had applied this proposal for the International Conference under the scheme of ‘Seminar/Symposia’ of ANRF, DST, Govt. of India and our proposal was accepted (File No: SSY/2025000334) and we have received the funding amount Rs. 2,00,000 (Two Lakhs) to conduct the event entitled INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON “SMART MATERIALS FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT” (ICSMSD- 2025) on 19th & 20th April in our university.

The basic objective of the International Conference was to meticulously plan to nurture innovative ideas from researchers, scientists, academicians, industry professionals and students. The International Conference aims to provide a common platform to share and discuss novel ideas, technologies and research findings to promote interdisciplinary research and to ignite young brains. Keeping this in view we invited different professionals as our keynote speakers for the event from different institutions of India and international like NIT Rourkela, Utkal University Bhubaneswar, University of Hyderabad, Berhampur University Berhampur, Centurion University Bhubaneswar, IISER Berhampur, University of Ngaoundere Cameroon, Kogi State of Education Nigeria, Saarland University, IIT Kharagpur, IIT Jodhpur, Amity University, VIT Chennai, University of North Carolina USA, Pukyong National University, University of Texas USA, Dalhousie University, Canada etc.

We had formed a committee to discharge various activities smoothly with a mock drill before this event. We had done the necessary advertisements for this International Conference in different, Facebook, WhatsApp groups, websites, Twitter, and LinkedIn, and sent the invitations, brochures, souvenirs, flyers etc. to various institutions by post and personal emails. Accommodations and transportation had been arranged nicely for all keynote speakers and delegates. All printing materials like flyers, brochures, badges, certificates, kit bags, pens, note pads, souvenirs etc. were ready in due time for all participants for these two days during the program. Flyers were displayed at different important places inside the campus and also important places for wide circulation and advertisement. Let me to brief about the important proceedings of this event day wise.

For more information on the Conference, please refer to this link <https://www.gietu.com/icsmsd-2025>. We have posted our event on the GIETU webpage <https://www.giet.edu/>

On the first day of the International Conference i.e. 19th April 2025, the inaugural function started at 10.30 am followed by the address speeches given by the Convener, General Chair, Dean SoET, Controller of Examination (GIET University) and the Chief Guest of the event. They encouraged the Ph.D. scholars and M. Sc. students to be involved in the various research programs and schemes to promote the R&D activities. As the program was offline arrangement, after a long period, the seriousness and interest was found in every participant which was really inspired one. After the inaugural, we organized the Technical session-1 started with keynote speakers under the session chair followed by question answer interactions followed by lunch and Poster Presentation. Post lunch session was continued with the talks as per the program followed by a short tea break. A culture function was organized by the students during the evening which was very really wonderful and praised by the experts. The first day program was closed at 7.00 pm. The keynote speakers went to their respective guest houses as arranged before.

On the second day of the International Conference i.e. 20th April 2025, the program started at 9.00 am. The keynote speakers as per the program, had delivered their talks, followed by question answer session and interaction about the R&D facilities available and their utilization for the M.Sc. students and Ph.D. scholars. Moreover, the keynote speakers discussed the critical role of material science in addressing global challenges such as electronic, polymer, magnetic, optical, dielectric, sensing as well as public health. To meet the needs of the future, scientists/researchers are actively involved in optimizing a wide variety of materials. This present conference serves as a platform for knowledge exchange, networking, forging partnerships, and collaborations to harness material science for resilient and sustainable development. Participants will be equipped with insights and strategies to integrate innovative materials science tools into real-world applications for global benefits. At the end of the talks, the valedictory function was arranged where the experts gave their feedback and opinions about the International Conference. They were given a very positive opinion about the program, which was conducted in an organized way and with good hospitality. Everybody suggested having this type of activity in future with recent topics regarding research, innovation and academia, so that all can benefit from this and the proper utilization of the fund for enhancing the knowledge and skills. Altogether, there was 13 keynote and 9 invited talks arranged, out of which 8 were in hybrid mode and rest 14 were in physical mode. The details of the agenda given below for reference.

More than 200 participants took part in the International Seminar includes M. Sc. students, scientists, faculty members, Ph.D scholars and industry linked persons. Kit bags, note pad, pen with agenda were given to all participants. Different electronics media people also invited for wide circulation about the International Seminar. The up to date news and video regarding the event was announced in the local TV channels. Besides this it was published in the different daily newspaper with photos starting from inaugural to the end of the program. Certificates were given to all participants of the International Conference. Supporting staffs were engaged to provide facilities like sound system, light, video shooting, power supply, photograph, cleaning, decorating, food arrangement, transport arrangement, guesthouse arrangement, stage management, water supply etc.

The program was conducted smoothly as per the plan. We got all required support from the university authority to conduct this International Conference. Actually, the total expenditure to organize this event was more than that of the sanctioned amount by ANRF. The additional amount was borne by the university. Really it was a meaningful and value added program which were appreciated by the delegates, professors, keynote speakers, students and scholars. In their feedback report, they mentioned that this type of events should be organized with the support of ANRF in future with recent topics related to research, innovation, academic. So we are thankful and grateful to ANRF for their financial support to organize this International Conference and also we hope the same support in future to conduct this type of programs in future so that the student of this remote area were benefited

At the end, being the convener of this event, I was really illuminated, feeling proud as the purpose was properly justified. Therefore, the International Conference (ICSMSD- 2025) came to an end with a lot of memories, experiences, exposures, interactions and many. Last but not least, again I am thankful and grateful ANRF, DST, Govt. of India for the financial support and guidance. I express my gratitude towards this and anticipate the same from you in future.

Two-Day International Conference Inaugurated at GIET University

Gunupur:(Correspondent) :- A two-day international conference titled "SMART MATERIALS FOR SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT-2025" was inaugurated today at GIET University, Gunupur. The event is jointly organized by the School of Engineering's Department of Basic Sciences and Humanities and the School of Sciences. Sponsored by the Anusandhan National Research Foundation and the Department of Science and Technology, Government of India, the inaugural session featured Dr. Satyabhan Jena, retired professor of Utkal University, as the chief guest. In his keynote address, Dr. Jena discussed the emergence and diverse applications of smart materials and emphasized the growing need for advanced research in this field, especially with an eye on environmental conservation. Dr. Dulupattnaik, Dean of the School of Engineering and Technology, shed light on departmental research achievements, while Dr. P. Bijaya Kumar, Controller of Examinations, highlighted innovation as a core element of scientific progress. The welcome address was delivered by the conference convener, Dr. Jitendra Kumar Sahu, and Dr. B. Rabi Prasad from the School of Sciences spoke on the thematic importance of the conference. A commemorative conference souvenir was also unveiled by the digni-taries on this occasion. Research scholars and post-graduate students of the university presented a variety of posters showcasing their research. The conference, held under the guidance of University Registrar Dr. N.V.J. Rao, witnessed participation from faculty members, researchers, and students. Ms. Furti

Fiza, Asst. Prof. hosted the proceedings of the inaugural session, while Ms. Ghanishtha Prusti, asst. Prof. delivered the vote of thanks. The conference includes virtual paper presentations from distinguished professors and researchers representing renowned institutions such as NIT Rourkela, University of Hyderabad, Utkal University, Saarland University (Germany), University of Douala (Cameroon), Dalhousie University (Canada), and academic voices from Nigeria, Israel, South Korea, and the USA. The day concluded with a colorful cultural program performed by the students of GIET University, marking a vibrant close to the inaugural day.
